Homemakers' Items

Today some 8,000 food products are on the market that were not even in existence 10 years ago. County home demonstration agents say if you are interested in reducing preparation time, but not necessarily costs, look for these foods: already whipped cream to use as a topping; a flour mixture for instant thickening of gravies and sauces; precooked rice and beans; potatoes - mashed, hashed brown, and escalloped; special seasonings prebleneded for specific dishes dehydrated parsley, chives and onions.

At least a dozen flavors of vinegar are on the market today. They include wine, malt, tarragon, garlic, and herb vinegars. They are a way to get subtle flavor changes in the menu.
